Reform in tea auction system

634. SHRI KARNENDU BHATTACHARJEE: Will the Minister of COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government's attention has been drawn to the news-Item captioned "Reforms in tea auction system soon" which appeared in "The Hindu" dated the 18th June, 2002;

(b) if so, the details thereof; and

(c) the steps proposed to be taken to deal with the problems faced by the tea industry particularly the small scale sector because of the prevailing low prices?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY (SHRI RAJIV PRATAP RUDI): (a) to (c) Yes Sir. As indicated in the news-item, the Government is seized of the problems being faced by the tea industry, including the small tea growers, in the present situation of prevailing low prices. The main factors contributing to the low prices of tea include, excess supply of tea, low demand from overseas countries, low rate of growth of domestic consumption and the quality of tea.

Besides providing necessary assistance to the tea industry, including small growers, through the developmental schemes being implemented by the Tea Board, Government has also taken other steps for the benefit of the tea industry. These include, promotion of tea consumption in the domestic market through a generic tea promotional campaign highlighting the health aspects of tea, launched in coordination with the tea industry, a quality upgradation programme being implemented through the Tea Board for improving the quality of tea, creating awareness among producers for reducing cost of production, implementation of a medium term export strategy formulated in consultation with international consultants, and assisting tea exporters in their marketing efforts abroad. The primary marketing system of tea has also been studied to look at the need for possible reforms in the tea auction system.
